Attendance Guide & Holiday Calendar

Staff reference | Updated 2 November 2026

Daily attendance

Use your registered Google account. Your signed-in email is recorded automatically and matched to your employee name. Submit one entry per working day: choose the date and work status, enter actual hours and briefly describe what you worked on. Add task links or IDs when available.

Sundays and declared company holidays

No form entry is needed on a non-working Sunday or declared company paid holiday. If you record a non-working holiday, choose Company paid holiday, enter 0 hours and write Holiday in Work summary. If you worked, choose Worked and enter actual hours; extra hours are tracked separately for manager review.

A holiday falling on Sunday counts once. No personal paid leave is used, and Monday is not automatically a substitute holiday.

Leave requests

Choose Leave request and enter the leave dates, type and reason. Personal leave needs manager approval. Company holidays are separate from personal paid leave; only declared dates receive holiday credit.

Declared festival holiday for 2026

8 November 2026: Diwali (Sunday; counted once).

2027 planning calendar

Provisional observed dates. Changes will be announced; Ramzan is subject to moon sighting.
